D.C. WHITE AGENCY PLANS TO EXHIBIT AT PIANY LI RAP

Long Beach, New York - March 10, 2009 - The D.C. White Agency is slated to exhibit at the PIANY Long Island Regional Awareness Program (LI RAP) on April 21, 2009. This year's event will be held at Leonard's of Great Neck in Great Neck, New York.

D.C. White President David Isenberg and Division Manager Jennifer Berger serve as members of the LI RAP Committee. The agency is also a RAP Event Host and proud sponsor of this annual program, which draws hundreds of agents and professionals from throughout New York's insurance community.

D.C. White's exhibit will proudly feature its broad array of commercial auto coverages designed specifically for local and intermediate trucks, delivery vans, tow trucks, dump trucks, contractors' vehicles, household movers and most other classes of commercial auto, as well as garage coverages for used car dealers, repair shops, tire sale shops, service stations, parking lots and garages and roadside repair and service businesses.

In addition to the trade show, this year's LI RAP features an educational session entitled "Who's Covered? Insureds and Additional Insureds in the CGL," a keynote address on a topic of concern to agents and the entire industry: insurance fraud, a presentation of the Industry Professional of the Year Award and networking opportunities.

Acquired by the Lancer Insurance Group in 1996, the D.C. White Agency focuses on small to mid-sized commercial auto business in New York and New Jersey. Garage Dealers, Non-Dealers and Dealer and Transporter Plate Coverages are offered in the State of New York.
